Baptist Association

The annual meeting of the S. W. Kansas Association of Baptists closed Saturday evening, having been in session three days.

The association was formally opened Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Agee presiding in the absence of the moderator. After the devotional exercises this session was spent in organization, appointing of committees and the reading of letters and greeting from the various churches comprising this conference.

The Moderator, Rev. O. L. Weir from Scott City, gave to the body a hearty welcome. This was followed by the election of officers. Rev. J. M. Robinson of Lakin was chosen moderator, and Miss Maule Saunders of Liberal, clerk.

Dr. I. N. Clark of the Foreign Board of Missions, read the report on Foreign Missions, and his talk on the work was given a most sympathetic hearing by all present. He traced the foreign work from its small beginning, in its steady growth and ever increasing success. The earnest enthusiasm and appeal to the churches did not fail to reach the hearer. Dr. Clark is an earnest talker and has a notable and successful missionary career.

At 11 o'clock Friday morning, Rev. U. P. Ewing of Garden City preached the introductory sermon. Rev. Ewing is a strong and well finished preacher and the thought that the "Inner revelations of God excel and transcend all common knowledge and reason" was brought out very forcibly in this address.

Report of Associational Missions was read by Rev. Ewing Friday afternoon and earnestly discussed by J. T. Crawford of the State Board of Missions. He recommended that Rev. F. J. Crawford, our Associational Missionary, be retained on the field. He made a strong appeal for this form of mission work and was followed by O. L. Weir, J. N. Robinson and J. W. Gurley who spoke earnestly along the same line. Motion was made that the money be raised immediately for the support of this missionary, this motion carried, collection was made and $300 raised, enough to meet the needs for three months. Report of time and place of next meeting was read during this session. Meade was chosen over Dighton, these two churches extending the only invitations.

Report on Obituary was read by Mrs. A. V. Bateman and adopted. Report on Home Missions was read by O. L. Weir and discussed by J. O. Gould of Topeka, during this talk he gave a brief history of his life on the frontier as a cowboy, and his conversion during those days. Rev. Robinson discussed the reflex action of home missions.

Report on Literature was read by Mrs. W. E. Sullins and in the discussions following strong appeals were made for more denominational education and literature this being a medium for closer touch with the Baptist denomination.

Report on Temperance was read by Mrs. Freda Molz of Garden City, and discussed by Rev. Moore of Meade, Rev. Colburn of Tyronne, and Rev. Robinson, the latter brought the thought of a pastor's duty in regard to tobacco and whiskey.

Rev. J. W. Gurley of Topeka addressed the teachers and supts. of Sunday schools on the importance of teachers training during evening session of Friday, making so plain the duty of a systematic training for Sunday School teachers that all felt inspired to make greater efforts along these lines in the future. Friday evening was given mostly to the B. Y. P. U. service, in the absence of C. P. Cole president, Rev. Ewing presided. Mrs. Molz read the scripture lesson from Rom. 12. First address was by Marcus Clemmons of Dodge City. His theme was "The World's Call for Men of Character" his brief review of what the B. Y. P. U. had done in helping him toward the ministry was appreciated by the audience, more especially, perhaps, because his beginnings are so well known here, and the church is greatly interested in the success of Bro. Clemmons.

Rev. J. W. Gurley of Topeka gave a stirring address on "Religious Education Reconsidered." His main thought was to put such an atmosphere in the Sunday School that it will make it easy for the child to respond to Christ.

The Association listened attentively to an excellent sermon Friday morning to Rev. F. J. Crawford, our associational missionary, after which the report on the Publication society was read by Rev. J. Frank Moore of Meade.

A motion for election of a delegate to the State Convention which meets at Garden City, October 9th to 13th inclusive, was made and Rev. Agee of Liberal was chosen. Report on State Missions was read by Rev. Ewing and adopted. This report contained a strong intreaty to the body for a large denominational attendance to the State Convention at Garden City and was indorsed by Rev. J. T. Crawford of Parsons, with his usual enthusiasm.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. L. M. Newell of Denver, the field missionary of the women's board, addressed the body on the women's work among the immigrants and the congested districts of our large cities, also she made a strong appeal for Alaska.

Saturday evening Rev. Robinson of Lakin preached the annual denominational sermon with "Spiritual Democracy" for the theme. He gave a splendid review of what the Baptist have done toward bringing about our present freedom of religious views.

This good meeting closed formally Friday night after singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." A few ministers remained over Sunday, however, and the best treat if possible, came on the Sabbath day. At 11 o'clock, Rev. Weir of Scott City, preached to an appreciative audience on the theme of the "Mountain Toy" the leading thought being that Christ satisfies every yearning aspiration of the soul, yet he expects us to bring Him down with us on the common plane of human life.

Sunday evening we had the great pleasure of listening to Rev. J. O. Gould, the ass't secretary of the Home Mission Board, of Topeka, on "The World in Boston." His vivid description of the wonderful missionary exhibit told in his own unique way gave all a new insight into the great work of missions. Rev. Gould, while a comparatively young man, shows a mastery of missionary problems worthy of one much older; the future has much in store for him.

We feel that these meetings have strengthened the Baptist church at this place, and encouraged all who attended to more aggressive work and greater undertakings.

The Association voted hearty resolutions and thanks for the hospitality and kindness shown by the Liberal people, and left expressing a feeling that Liberal might soon invite them back again.

Among the visitors and messengers from out of town were: J. M. Gurley, Topeka; Mrs. L. M. Newell, Denver; Dr. I. N. Clark, Topeka; J. T. Crawford, Parsons; F. J. Crawford, Associational Missionary; I. T. Calvin and Cecil Morrison, Tyronne; Mesdames A. V. Bateman, Moore, Lydia Baxter, Jas. Lovett, Ona Rhodes and Miss Hilda Moore, Messrs G. H. Perkins, J. Frank Moore, Elizer Kennison, and Lovett, of Meade from Garden City were Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Dennison, Mrs. Freda Molz, J. C. Tyler, Mrs. H. W. Lohrey, Robert Phelps, Rev. U. P. Ewing. From Fowler, Cora L. Miller, Mrs. W. E. Sullins and Margret Sullins. From Horace, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lovett. From Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath and Mary Scott; A. C. Fish, Plains; Rev. J. W. Robinson and Mrs. Ida Johnson, Lakin; O. L. Weir, Scott City; M. O. Clemmons, Dodge City; O. J. Gould, Topeka, with a number of others who failed to register.
